

air sonic is...

Since its conception in 1998, air sonic has been delivering songs which build themselves into their own world, somewhere between pop and rock in a universe coloured by electronic touches. The various colours and layers of the four members band's music are drawn by efficient guitars – flashy and atmospheric – supported by a sonorous bass tormented by harmonic lines and by inventive, dynamic and groovy drums. Keyboards, samples and computer treatments add fresh air to the airsonician soundtrack, which is completed by inspired and sincere vocals.

In order to have its audience take off for a real musical trip, air sonic is used to working with a vee jay, Lydia Gerbex, who mixes and projects her own images during live concerts, following the music and her own inspiration.

Blue Fiction (Gardening at Night Records, February 2004) is air sonic's first official release. The album was recorded and mixed in October 2003 at Bellefontaine Studio (Favez, Toboggan, Honey for Petzi, etc.) in Lausanne by Ludo Gugliemazzi.

Air sonic is preparing a new record to be released in 2006!
